COMPARING ALWAYSUP AND MICROSOFT'S SRVANY

Feature / Benefit	AlwaysUp	Srvany
Start any application at boot as a Windows Service	✓	✓
Free to use	✗	✓
Automatically restart your application whenever it stops	✓	✗
Easy-to-use GUI to create & manage multiple applications	✓	✗
Send email alerts when the application stops, etc.	✓	✗
Support for Windows 11/10 and Server 2025/2022/2019	✓	✗
Tested with 160+ programs (Dropbox, OneDrive, etc.)	✓	✗
Stop your application consistently & gracefully	✓	✗
Detect CPU & Memory "hogs"	✓	✗
Restart hung/non-responsive applications	✓	✗
Extensive support for GUI programs (Session 0 Isolation)	✓	✗
Delay before starting/restarting your application	✓	✗
Automatically connect mapped network drives	✓	✗
Run a batch file before your program starts/after it stops	✓	✗
Restart your application at a specific time	✓	✗
Dismiss dialog boxes, crash prompts	✓	✗
Capture output to a text file (console applications)	✓	✗
Boost/lower your application's priority	✓	✗
Run the application on specific CPUs	✓	✗
Stop the application with your own custom command	✓	✗
Export settings to XML for easy sharing between PCs	✓	✗
Set dependencies on other services	✓	✗
Extensible – Plug in your own failure detection routine	✓	✗
Receive daily/weekly activity reports (uptime, CPU, etc.)	✓	✗
Write errors & warnings to the Windows Event Log	✓	✗
Control applications from your web browser (free add-on)	✓	✗
Professional technical support via phone, email and web	✓	✗